

The patient, a 45-year-old male with a history of type 2 diabetes mellitus, presented with symptoms of chest pain and shortness of breath. Upon examination, he was diagnosed with coronary artery disease. He was prescribed metformin to manage his diabetes and atorvastatin to lower his cholesterol levels. Additionally, the patient was started on aspirin and clopidogrel to prevent blood clots.